Manhattan's Best Kept Secret Lists Under $2M

Nestled in a garden-like enclave on the Upper East Side, East End Avenue is commonly known as an urban suburb. Offering views of the East River and easy access to the city, as well as within close proximity to Carl Schurz Park and the East River Promenade.

Now imagine living in a spacious and sun-filled corner at 75 East End Avenue complete with two baths and two bedrooms, including a master bedroom that features striking views of the East River.

The exquisite kitchen features custom cabinetry and state-of-the-art appliances. Additionally amenities include a washer/dryer, floor-to-ceiling built-ins, and central air, to name a few benefits.

An impeccable neighborhood, an apartment that combines elegance with practicality, and all the benefits of ownership for just $1,875,000. Margo Mohr and Evelyn Katz of Fox Residential have the listing.
